Notice to All Applicants:

Reasonable Accommodations for Applicants with Disabilities

The Appleton Housing Authority (AHA) is a public agency that provides low rent housing to eligible families, elderly, and single persons. AHA does not discriminate against applicants on the basis of their race, religion, sex, national origin, disability or handicap. In addition, AHA has a legal obligation to provide "reasonable accommodations" to applicants if they or any family members have a disability or handicap.

A reasonable accommodation is some modification or change AHA can make to its apartments or procedures that will assist an otherwise eligible applicant with a disability to take advantage of AHA's programs. Examples of reasonable accommodations would include:

- Making reasonable alterations to an AHA unit so it could be used by a family member with a wheelchair;
- Installing strobe type flashing light smoke detectors in an apartment for a family with a hearing impaired member;
- Permitting a family to have a seeing eye dog to assist a vision-impaired family in an AHA family unit where dogs are not usually permitted;
- Making large type documents or a reader available to a visually-impaired applicant during the application process;
- Making a sign language interpreter available to a hearing impaired applicant during the interview;
- Permitting an outside agency to assist an applicant with a disability to meet the AHA's applicant screening criteria.

An applicant family that has a member with a disability must still be able to meet the essential obligations of tenancy. They must be able to pay rent, to care for their apartment, to report required information to the Appleton Housing Authority, to avoid disturbing their neighbors, etc., but there is no requirement that they be able to do these things without assistance.

If you or a member of your family have a disability and think you might need or want a reasonable accommodation, you may request it at any time in the application process or after admission. This is up to you. If you would prefer not to discuss your situation with the housing authority, that is your right.

COMMUNITY SERVICE POLICY

The Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) issued a notice to officially reinstate the Community Service and Self-Sufficiency requirement effective 10/01/2003 that applies to participants in the Public Housing Program.

Unless you are exempt, you are required to perform eight hours of Community Service monthly.

You are exempt if:

1. you are 62 years or older
2. you are a person with disabilities and you certify that, based on your disability, you cannot comply with the requirement
3. you are a caretaker for a person with a disability who cannot comply with the requirement because of his/her disability
4. you are currently working 30 or more hours each week
5. a state program has already certified that you are exempt from Community Service
6. or you are a member of a family receiving State Welfare and are in compliance with the welfare program's requirements.

Participation in a job readiness, job training, or skills training program or in higher education fulfills the requirement for Community Service.

Upon acceptance into the Public Housing Scattered Site program, three (3) forms will be available for you to disclose your status in regards to this requirement.

1. A Community Service Requirement form is available to record and report your volunteer hours to the Scattered Sites Family Coordinator.
2. A Verification of Exemption from Community Service form allows you to certify; based on a disability, that you either can or cannot perform typical Community Service work.
3. The Appleton Housing Authority at your request will mail a form on which your doctor can verify that you are unable, because of your disability, to perform eight hours of Community Service monthly.

Any local public or non-profit institution qualifies as a recipient of your Community Service hours. You may already be doing Community Service work at your church or a non-profit group such as Habitat for Humanity.

APPLYING FOR HUD HOUSING ASSISTANCE?

THINK ABOUT THIS...
IS FRAUD WORTH IT?

Do You Realize...

If you commit fraud to obtain assisted housing from HUD, you could be:

- Evicted from your apartment or house.
- Required to repay all overpaid rental assistance you received.
- Fined up to $10,000.
- Imprisoned for up to five years.
- Prohibited from receiving future assistance.
- Subject to State and local government penalties.

Do You Know...

You are committing fraud if you sign a form knowing that you provided false or misleading information.

The information you provide on housing assistance application and recertification forms will be checked. The local housing agency, HUD, or the Office of Inspector General will check the income and asset information you provide with other Federal, State, or local governments and with private agencies. Certifying false information is fraud.

So Be Carefull

When you fill out your application and yearly recertification for assisted housing from HUD make sure your answers to the questions are accurate and honest. You must include:

All sources of income and changes in income you or any members of your household receive, such as wages, welfare payments, social security and veterans' benefits, pensions, retirement, etc.

Any money you receive on behalf of your children, such as child support, AFDC payments, social security for children, etc.

Any increase in income, such as wages from a new job or an expected pay raise or bonus.

All assets, such as bank accounts, savings bonds, certificates of deposit, stocks, real estate, etc., that are owned by you or any member of your household.

All income from assets, such as interest from savings and checking accounts, stock dividends, etc.

Any business or asset (your home) that you sold in the last two years at less than full value.

The names of everyone, adults or children, relatives and non-relatives, who are living with you and make up your household.

(Important Notice for Hurricane Katrina and Hurricane Rita Evacuees: HUD's reporting requirements may be temporarily waived or suspended because of your circumstances. Contact the local housing agency before you complete the housing assistance application.)

Ask Questions

If you don't understand something on the application or recertification forms, always ask questions. It's better to be safe than sorry.

Watch Out for Housing Assistance Scams!

- Don't pay money to have someone fill out housing assistance application and recertification forms for you.
- Don't pay money to move up on a waiting list.
- Don't pay for anything that is not covered by your lease.
- Get a receipt for any money you pay.
- Get a written explanation if you are required to pay for anything other than rent (maintenance or utility charges).

Report Fraud

If you know of anyone who provided false information on a HUD housing assistance application or recertification or if anyone tells you to provide false information, report that person to the HUD Office of Inspector General Hotline. You can call the Hotline toll-free Monday through Friday, from 10:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Eastern Time, at 1-800-347-3735. You can fax information to (202) 708-4829 or e-mail it to Hotline@hudoig.gov.
